Computation and extension of time.

- (A) The date of occurrence of the event causing time to run is not counted in the computation of any time limit under this chapter. The last day of the period is included in the computation of the time limit. If the last day of a period is not a regular business day, the time period runs through the end of the next regularly scheduled business day.
- (B) The committee may extend the time for filing or responding to motions and briefs. Requests for extension of time shall be made, in writing, prior to the expiration of any time limit.
