Please note: Rules 1501:10-2-01 to 1501:10-2-27, which will provide for and regulate the use of diesel equipment in underground coal mines in Ohio, are being filed for adoption as an entire rule package. The fiscal impact of these rules is discussed as a whole package, rather than on a rule-by-rule basis.

The Division anticipates that, once they are fully implemented, the diesel equipment rules will require about one Full Time Equivalent of staff time annually. The Division does not plan to hire a new staff person for this purpose, but will spread the work out among various mine safety staff. For example, some Mine Safety staff will work with the Diesel Technical Advisory Committee to accomplish the baseline monitoring, equipment model approvals, and other reviews required by these rules before diesel equipment can be used in underground mines. Other Mine Safety staff will be assigned to inspect the use of underground diesel equipment at the mines.

The Division has already purchased the engine exhaust emissions analyzers that it will need to fulfill its responsibilities under these rules.

14. Identify the appropriation (by line item etc.) that authorizes each expenditure necessitated by the proposed rule:

Not applicable.

15. Provide a summary of the estimated cost of compliance with the rule to all directly affected persons. When appropriate, please include the source for your information/estimated costs, e.g. industry, CFR, internal/agency:

The Division believes that Ohio's underground coal operators will benefit financially from these diesel rules, although it is not possible to estimate the cost savings of these rules, since their implementation is likely to take place gradually and incrementally at most mines.

The Division expects that all underground coal mines in Ohio will eventually use diesel equipment to some extent. Each operator will weigh the costs and benefits of bringing in new diesel equipment compared to continuing to use old electric equipment and will decide when and how to best make use of diesel. The new diesel rules will allow the operator to maximize efficiency by allowing the use of both kinds of equipment in the best combination for an individual mine. The new diesel rules will also level the playing field for Ohio's underground coal mining compared to other underground coal mining states, since most other major underground coal-producing states already allow the use of diesel equipment.

The Division believes that these diesel rules will not reduce the safety of underground coal mining. Diesel equipment is reliable and safe when it is used and maintained properly, and Ohio's rules contain the safeguards necessary to assure miners' safety.

16. Does this rule have a fiscal effect on school districts, counties, townships, or municipal corporations? No

17. Does this rule deal with environmental protection or contain a component dealing with environmental protection as defined in R. C. 121.39? Yes

You must complete the Environmental rule Adoption/Amendment Form in order to comply with Am. Sub. 106 of the 121st General Assembly.
