Reconsideration by the ~~commission~~Commission.

(A) Procedure for applying for reconsideration. Any party may apply to the ~~commission~~Commission for reconsideration of a determination of probable cause or any final ~~commission~~Commission determination. Such application must be in writing, state specifically the grounds on which it is based, and be filed, along with all supporting materials, with the ~~commission~~Commission at its central office compliance department in Columbus within ten days from the date of service of the notice of determination. The ~~commission~~Commission shall serve notice of such application for reconsideration on all other parties to the matter in which the application for reconsideration is filed.

(B) Determination of application for reconsideration.

The ~~commission~~Commission may, in its discretion, accept or reject an application for reconsideration.

(1) If the ~~commission~~Commission rejects an application for reconsideration, it shall record its action accordingly and shall notify the parties.

(2) If the ~~commission~~Commission accepts an application for reconsideration, it shall make a determination and shall notify the parties. The ~~commission~~Commission may, in its discretion, hear one or more of the parties.

(C) Reconsideration by motion of the ~~commission~~Commission. The ~~commission~~Commission may, upon its own motion, reconsider any determination. If the ~~commission~~Commission reconsiders a determination on its own motion, it shall record its action accordingly and notify the parties.
