12. What are the estimated costs of compliance for all persons and/or organizations directly affected by the rule?

Reinstatement costs are similar to application costs. EMS accredited institution and the levels of training being offered. Those institutions not changing any certification levels will see minimal if any additional costs, except for natural increases in administrative costs. Those institutions adding additional certification levels will see cost increases, as they may need to add additional instructional, administrative, and equipment resources. *Significant costs could be associated with institutions requesting to become a paramedic training center due to the costs associated with the national accreditation application process. The estimated annual cost to an accredited institution for continued compliance is an annual fee of $1,700 and approximately $3,450 in additional costs every five years to complete the CAAHEP reaccreditation process. These costs are charged and collected by CoAEMSP.

*Costs obtained from CoAEMSP at <http://www.coaemsp.org/Fees.htm>. The CoAEMSP website was reviewed on May 4, 2023 to determine the initial and renewal costs of compliance.

Costs of compliance for stakeholders could include the cost of instructional materials, instructor time, and equipment as the program deems necessary. OAC Chapter 4765-7 does not require any EMS approved institution to provide specific continuing education training; the CE training is provided at the discretion of the approved institution. The costs incurred by the EMS approved institutions will vary depending on the affiliations of the institution, the CE training being offered, and increases in administrative costs. Institutions adding additional CE training may see cost increases based on the need to add additional instructional, administrative, and equipment resources.

Reinstatement costs may also include costs associated with a period of time (not less than one year from the date of journalization) during which a revoked certificate of accreditation or approval cannot be reinstated and the institution cannot provide EMS training or CE education. Additional costs may be incurred by institutions working to comply with consent agreements and meet the requirements for a certificate of accreditation or approval.
