12. What are the estimated costs of compliance for all persons and/or organizations directly affected by the rule?

Covered facilities must establish and implement a food safety system that includes an analysis of hazards and risk-based preventive controls. Current GMPs have been updated and clarified. There are no fines associated with this regulation. However, failure to comply with the requirements may result in the adulteration and eventual embargo or destruction of products.

The adverse impact from these rules is difficult to quantify. The amount of work required depends greatly on the product, the amount of product produced, and the size and layout of the facility. Many manufacturer's already have a food safety plan in place. Smaller manufacturers may choose to draft the food safety plan themselves and thereby reduce costs – or – hire an outside company to complete the necessary plan.

13. Does the rule increase local government costs? (If yes, you must complete an RSFA Part B). No
14. Does the rule regulate environmental protection? (If yes, you must complete an RSFA Part C). No

15. If the rule imposes a regulation fee, explain how the fee directly relates to your agency's cost in regulating the individual or business.

Records must be made available to the Department upon request. There are no penalties for paperwork violations. When violations are found during an inspection a facility is given time to come into compliance (a minimum of 10 days) before legal remedy is sought.

- D. Is it likely that the rule will directly reduce the revenue or increase the expenses of the lines of business of which it will apply or applies? Yes

Smaller manufacturers may choose to draft the food safety plan themselves and thereby reduce costs – or – hire an outside company to complete the necessary plan.
