The rules in Chapter 901:9-2 of the Ohio Administrative Code (#OAC#) regulate #concessions# at fairs and expositions operated by county and independent agricultural societies. Concessions are defined as shows, games, or novelty stands which take place at these county fairs. Classic examples of these games can be found at a fairs #Midway# such as the milk bottle ball game, pop bottle ball game, and the bank-a-ball game.

Pursuant to Chapter 1711 of the Ohio Revised Code (#ORC#), it is the Department's regulatory mission to protect the public from dishonest and fraudulent dealings with regards to concessions. In order to accomplish this mission, the Department has created a specific set of administrative code rules which outline the way each game shall be played, the manner in which prizes are offered and displayed, and the signage requirements for each game.

The rules have been reviewed by both the Department and the rule's stakeholders. After several months of discussion, the rules as outlined below represent a compromise between industry and the Department.

OAC 901:9-2-01 outlines the definitions that are used in the chapter. The rule is being amended to make several stylistic changes which help to clear up any potential ambiguity in interpreting the rule. Substantively, the definition #concession# has been amended to reflect the statutory definition of #concession# as found in ORC 1711.11. Further, a definition of the term #trade up games# has been added to the list of definitions. This definition is necessary for the interpretation and understanding of OAC 901:9-2-06.
