The Common Sense Initiative is established in R.C. 107.61 to eliminate excessive and duplicative rules and regulations that stand in the way of job creation. Under the Common Sense Initiative, agencies must balance the critical objectives of regulations that have an adverse impact on business with the costs of compliance by the regulated parties. Agencies should promote transparency, responsiveness, predictability, and flexibility while developing regulations that are fair and easy to follow. Agencies should prioritize compliance over punishment, and to that end, should utilize plain language in the development of regulations.

6. What is the public purpose for this regulation (i.e., why does the Agency feel that there needs to be any regulation in this area at all)?

Regulation of the auctioneer profession protects the buyers and sellers of good but also the public at large through the establishment of a standard of professional conduct for all licensees. The regulations ensure that all auctions are open to the public and free of unfair bidding restrictions. Further, regulating the auctioneer industry ensures that the profession remains in good standing by ensuring all auctioneers are experienced, educated, and bound to a code of ethics.

7. How will the Agency measure the success of this regulation in terms of outputs and/or outcomes?

The Department considers the rules successful when there is no increase in the number of auctioneer complaints filed annually. Additionally, the Department measures success through the number of auctioneers licensed and when auctioneer investigations find few violations.

8. Are any of the proposed rules contained in this rule package being submitted pursuant to R.C. 101.352, 101.353, 106.032, 121.93, or 121.931?

10. What input was provided by the stakeholders, and how did that input affect the draft regulation being proposed by the Agency?

During the stakeholder comment period, no comments were received.

11. What scientific data was used to develop the rule or the measurable outcomes of the rule? How does this data support the regulation being proposed?

Not applicable.

12. What alternative regulations (or specific provisions within the regulation) did the Agency consider, and why did it determine that these alternatives were not appropriate? If none, why didn't the Agency consider regulatory alternatives?

Stakeholder participation in this rule package has indicated to the Department that this is the best regulatory scheme at this time. For this reason, no other regulatory alternatives were considered.

13. Did the Agency specifically consider a performance-based regulation? Please explain. Performance-based regulations define the required outcome, but don't dictate the process the regulated stakeholders must use to achieve compliance.

The rules generally outline the application requirements of auctioneers therefore performance-based regulations would not be appropriate. The rules outline specifically what requirements are to be met in order to gain licensure.

14. What measures did the Agency take to ensure that this regulation does not duplicate an existing Ohio regulation?

Under Chapter 4707 of the Revised Code, the Department has sole and exclusive authority to regulate the auctioneer profession in Ohio.

Adverse Impact to Business

16. Provide a summary of the estimated cost of compliance with the rule. Specifically, please do the following:

a. Identify the scope of the impacted business community; and

All licensed auctioneers and auction firms in the state of Ohio.

b. Identify the nature of all adverse impact (e.g., fees, fines, employer time for compliance,); and Auctioneers and auction firms must pay a two-hundred-dollar license fee biennially. According to section 4704.08 of the Revised Code, each applicant for the auctioneer examination must pay a $25 examination fee whereas all applicants for firm managers must pay a $15 examination fee to sit for the exam.

Individuals must request an exam application by mail or through the Department's website, which requires time for compliance.

All applicants must pass an examination to receive a license. The auctioneer examination consists of a written examination held at the Department at 8995 East Main Street, Reynoldsburg, Ohio. Auction firm manager examinees must complete a written examination to be granted a license. This requires time and travel for compliance.

c. Quantify the expected adverse impact from the regulation.

The adverse impact can be quantified in terms of dollars, hours to comply, or other factors; and may be estimated for the entire regulated population or for a "representative business." Please include the source for your information/estimated impact.

Auctioneers and auction firms must pay a two hundred dollar license fee biennially. According to section 4704.08 of the Revised Code, each applicant for the auctioneer examination must pay a $25 examination fee. Examinees must travel to the Department's campus located at 8995 East Main Street, Reynoldsburg, Ohio for the test. This requires time and money for travel which will vary depending on where the examinee is coming from in the state. Auctioneer and auction firm manager examinees must complete a written examination to obtain a license.

17. Why did the Agency determine that the regulatory intent justifies the adverse impact to the regulated business community?

The regulatory intent of auctioneer rules is to protect consumer transactions and to promote confidence in the auctioneer profession by ensuring that those who enter the profession have the required expertise and experience necessary to conduct fair auctions. These rules achieve this protection by requiring minimal time and money for compliance.

Regulatory Flexibility

18. Does the regulation provide any exemptions or alternative means of compliance for small businesses? Please explain.

As the primary purpose of this rule is to protect consumer transactions and to promote confidence in the auctioneer profession, exemptions for small businesses would not be applicable.

19. How will the agency apply Ohio Revised Code section 119.14 (waiver of fines and penalties for paperwork violations and first-time offenders) into implementation of the regulation?

Paperwork violations rarely reach the enforcement stage so long as the auctioneer is willing to correct the violation and has no history of prior violations. First-time offenders are also routinely offered settlements that are appropriate to the circumstances of the violation.

20. What resources are available to assist small businesses with compliance of the regulation?

The Department has online resources and has staff available to provide assistance. Training and seminars are also available at no expense to the licensee due to funding distributed by the Ohio Auctioneer Commission from the auction education fund.
