- (v) Apply to an investment advisory contract with a person who is not a resident of the United States.
- (c) For purposes of paragraph (I)(1)(b)(ii) of this rule, the point from which increases and decreases in compensation are measured shall be the fee which is paid or earned when the investment performance of such company or fund is equivalent to that of the index or other measure of performance, and an index of securities prices shall be deemed appropriate unless the division by rule shall determine otherwise.
- (d) As used in paragraph (I)(1)(a)(ii) of this rule and paragraph (I)(1)(a)(iii) of this rule, "investment advisory contract" means any contract or agreement whereby a person agrees to act as investment adviser to or to manage any investment or trading account of another person other than an investment company registered under Title I of the Investment Company Act of 1940.
- (e) The division, by rule, upon its own motion, or by order upon application, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any person or transaction, or any class or classes of persons or transactions, from paragraph (I)(1)(a)(i) of this rule, if and to the extent that the exemption relates to an investment advisory contract with any person that the division determines does not need the protections of paragraph (I)(1)(a)(i) of this rule, on the basis of such factors as financial sophistication, net worth, knowledge of and experience in financial matters, amount of assets under management, relationship with a registered investment adviser, and such other factors as the division determines are consistent with this rule.

For this purpose, cash distributions on the securities which comprise the index shall be treated as reinvested in the index at least as frequently as the end of each calendar quarter following the payment of the dividend.

(3) Definition of "specified period."

- (a) For purposes of paragraph (I) of this rule:

- (b) The specified period over which the asset value of the company or fund under management is averaged shall mean the period over which the investment performance of the company or fund and the investment record of an appropriate index of securities prices or such other measure of investment performance are computed.
- (c) Notwithstanding paragraph (I)(3)(b) of this rule, the specified period over which the asset value of the company or fund is averaged for the purpose of computing the fulcrum fee may differ from the period over which the asset value is averaged for computing the performance related portion of the fee, only if:
 - (i) The performance related portion of the fee is computed over a rolling period and the total fee is payable at the end of each subperiod of the rolling period; and

- (ii) The fulcrum fee is computed on the basis of the asset value averaged over the most recent subperiod or subperiods of the rolling period.

(4) Assignment.

- (a) "Assignment" as used in paragraph (I) of this rule includes any direct or indirect transfer or hypothecation of an investment advisory contract by the assignor or of a controlling block of the assignor's outstanding voting securities by a security holder of the assignor; but if the investment adviser is a partnership, no assignment of an investment advisory contract shall be deemed to result from the death or withdrawal of a minority of the members of the investment adviser having only a minority interest in the business of the investment adviser, or from the admission to the investment adviser of one or more members who, after such admission, shall be only a minority of the members and shall have only a minority interest in the business.
- (b) A transaction which does not result in a change of actual control or management of an investment adviser is not an assignment for purposes of paragraph (I)(1)(a)(ii) of this rule.

(5) Exception from the compensation prohibition for investment advisers.

- (a) General. Paragraph (I)(1)(a)(i) of this rule will not be deemed to prohibit an investment adviser from entering into, performing, renewing or extending an investment advisory contract that provides for compensation to the investment adviser on the basis of a share of the capital gains upon, or the capital appreciation of, the funds, or any portion of the funds, of a client; provided, however, that the client entering into the contract subject to this rule is a qualified client, as defined in paragraph (I)(5)(d)(i) of this rule.
- (b) Identification of the client. In the case of a private investment company, as defined in paragraph (I)(5)(d)(iii) of this rule or a business development company, as defined in section 202(a)(22) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, each equity owner of any such company, except for the investment adviser entering into the contract and any other equity owners not charged a fee on the basis of a share of capital gains or capital appreciation, will be considered a client for purposes of paragraph (I)(5)(a) of this rule.

- (ii) The term "company" has the same meaning as in section 202(a)(5) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 but does not include a company that is required to be registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 but is not registered.
- (iii) The term "private investment company" means a company that would be defined as an investment company under section 3(a) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 but for the exception provided from that definition by section 3(c)(1) of such act.

- (2) Except as hereinafter provided, a notice to withdraw from licensure shall become effective on the sixtieth day after the filing thereof with the division, or within such shorter period of time as the division may determine. If, prior to the effective date of a notice of withdrawal from licensure, the division has instituted a proceeding to suspend or revoke the license of the investment adviser, the notice of withdrawal shall not become effective except at such time and upon such terms and conditions as the division deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, clients or prospective clients.
