Re: Comments of the Ohio Energy and Convenience Association on the proposed amendments to OAC 3737-1-04

Dear Ms. Richmond:

On January 6, 2023, the Petroleum UST Release Compensation Board (the “Board”) published notice of a public hearing to consider proposed amendments to OAC 3737-1-04, which establishes the requirements of petroleum underground storage tank (UST) owners and operators to obtain, maintain a certificate of coverage with the Financial Assurance Fund, including the payment of annual per-tank financial assurance fees (the “Proposed Amendments”). The Proposed Amendments currently under consideration are a revised version of proposed amendments to OAC 3737-1-04 that the Board filed with the Joint Committee on Agency Review (JCARR) on March 30, 2022, but subsequently withdrew after considering comments received on the prior iteration, including comments submitted by the Ohio Energy and Convenience Association¹ (OECA, or the “Association”) which raised concerns regarding the point at which requirements associated with obtaining a certificate of coverage a triggered and the scope of the Board’s authority to collect annual UST fees under R.C. 3737.91. The following comments on the Proposed Amendments are being submitted on behalf of OECA.

INTRODUCTION

Ohio’s energy and convenience industry works around the clock to keep companies energized and open for business, and the Association is the premier statewide trade association representing their interests. OECA's members own and operate the majority of Ohio's 5,635 convenience stores and employ more than 91,287 Ohioans. Members on the wholesale side employ thousands more in commercial fueling facilities, transportation divisions, heating oil sales and home offices. Collectively, the Association's members supply the fuel to move commerce and motorists through the state, drive the economy through job creation, and strengthen local communities through philanthropic engagement. The Association frequently participates in policy initiatives and regulatory actions at the local, state, and federal levels of government in support of its members' interests.

Many of the Association's members who own and/or operate USTs are subject to OAC 3737-1-04.

COMMENTS

OECA applauds the Board's engagement with interested stakeholders throughout this rulemaking effort, and appreciates the Board's consideration of OECA's comments. The Proposed Amendments include language that addresses the concerns raised by OECA in its April 13, 2022 comments. Notably, OAC 3734-1-04(F)(1) has been amended to clarify that a responsible person must notify the director upon introducing a regulated petroleum product into a newly installed UST (as opposed to providing notice upon the installation of the UST). The Proposed Amendments also clarify that the responsible person is only assessed annual fees for the fiscal year in which a regulated petroleum product was first introduced into the UST system or July 1, 1989, whichever is later, and any subsequent fiscal years.

The Association supports the Proposed Amendments, and appreciates the opportunity to submit comments as part of the Board's rulemaking effort. Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,

Ryan D. Elliott
