On behalf of Lt. The new rules establish provider qualifications, service delivery requirements, service documentation responsibilities, and payment standards for individual and group employment support services. Additionally, the Department sent the proposed rules to numerous additional stakeholders for review and comment. Based on feedback from stakeholders, the Department determined to reduce the group size for adult day support and vocational habilitation services from five to four individuals. No comments were received during the CSI public comment period.

According to the BIA, the business community affected by these rules includes HCBS waiver service providers. The adverse impact to business includes costs associated with fulfilling provider qualifications, complying with service delivery requirements, documenting services, and various other administrative responsibilities established by the rules. The adverse impact may also include potential fines or disciplinary actions for failure to comply with the rules, though the Department states that its policy is to waive these penalties for first-time offenders or procedural issues when appropriate. The Department states that the adverse impact to business is necessary to implement federally approved HCBS waivers and additionally notes that the changes to the rules are designed to enact payment rate increases for the provider community.

Recommendations

Based on the information above, the CSI Office has no recommendations on this rule package.

Conclusion

The CSI Office concludes that the Ohio Department of Developmental Disabilities should proceed in filing the proposed rules with the Joint Committee on Agency Rule Review.
